

Netflix Advanced Data Science Boot Camp – Employee Database Analysis Rubric

This assignment will be evaluated against the requirements in the following rubric table and assigned a grade as the Assignment Grading table shows. In the following rubric table, the Points column has the maximum number of points for each requirement.

Requirement	Points (100 total)
A table view of all the employees who either have retired or will soon retire is created.	10
A table view that holds a list of all the current employees is created.	10
A list is generated that for the current employees, displays the average salary for each job title, and the list is ordered from the lowest to the highest average salary.	20
A list is generated that for the current employees, displays the average salary for each department, and the list is ordered from the lowest to the highest average salary.	20
A list is created that for the current employees, ranks the average salary by title for each department, and the list is ordered from the lowest to the highest average salary by title.	20
A list is created that ranks the number of current employees by title within each department.	20

Assignment Grading

Grade	Points
High Pass	90 or more
Pass	70–89
Fail	1–69
Incomplete	0